

Mosaic

an interdisciplinary critical journal celebrates its 50th anniversary and transition to the next half-century with an international interdisciplinary symposium that takes movement in trans- as its theme

Living On

March 9-11, 2017

University of Manitoba

Graduate Student Panel

In this panel, six doctoral candidates and/or recent PhD graduates from different Canadian and American universities will hold a conversation on the future of academic research in their particular fields, the challenges facing doctoral students, and what promise they see on the horizon.

- Dr. Alyson Brickey recently received her PhD from the Department of English at the University of Toronto.
- Ryan Fics is a doctoral candidate in the Department of Comparative Literature at Emory University.
- Gwynne Fulton is an interdisciplinary doctoral candidate in philosophy, art history, and curatorial studies at Concordia University.
- Riley McGuire is a doctoral candidate in the Department of English at the University of Pennsylvania.
- Carrie Reese is a doctoral candidate at the Cinema Studies Institute at the University of Toronto.

Saturday, March 11, 2017

1 - 3 pm

Cross Common Room, 108 St. John's College

All are welcome to attend. Register now at: www.umanitoba.ca/mosaic/livingon.

Mosaic is grateful to the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada; Department of Classics; Department of French, Spanish, and Italian; Department of History; Department of Religion; Diana Brydon, Canada Research Chair in Globalization and Cultural Studies; Faculty of Arts; Faculty of Graduate Studies; Mondriaan Fund; Office of the Vice-President (Research and International); St. John's College; St. Paul's College; School of Art; and the University of Manitoba Centre for Human Rights Research.